

Family Sketches & Impressions

E. A. Garry

INTRODUCTION

In July 2011, my grandmother passed away. She was the last of my grandparents to die. It seemed important to me to recognize that generation's passing.

Back in 1998, I had made a small foray into genealogy but nothing in depth. With my Grandmother's passing I wanted to look again at my genealogy information.

This booklet is a companion to the family genealogy website I've created. The website is more focused on being a facility for data and to grow over time. I wanted this booklet to be for more personal observations and to capture the moment.
